Northmont City Schools

The data in the following charts are specific to your school district. The statistics can be used to help implement important strategies to eliminate the racial and gender gaps that persist across all school districts in Montgomery County.

Sources for the data are the Ohio Department of Education and the National Student Clearinghouse, with analysis provided by the University of Dayton’s Business Research Group. If data are missing for certain groups of students, that’s because the district has too few students in that particular subpopulation to create an accurate trendline.

Overview data:

- Northmont K-12 Students
- Children Living in Dire Poverty or a Financially Stressed Family

When you review your district’s data, you may want to ask:
- Does the data surprise you?
- Who needs to know this information, so they can use it to make decisions about practices, policies and interventions for children in your community?

Source: American Community Survey 2017 5 Year Table B05010

- Children living in dire poverty (below 100% of the FPL)
- Children living in a financially stressed family (100% to 199% of the FPL)
- Children living in families above 200% of the FPL
Girls: 26% of African-American girls demonstrate readiness for Kindergarten compared with 57% of white females. If we can help 8 African-American girls demonstrate, we can close the gap between African-American girls and white girls.

Boys: 19% of African-American boys demonstrate readiness for Kindergarten compared with 43% of white males. If we can help 5 African-American boys demonstrate readiness, we can close the gap between African-American boys and white boys.

If we help an additional 13 African-American students, we close the racial gap and overall school readiness increases from 43% to 47%.

*“Ready to learn” is defined as scoring in the highest of 3 “bands” on Ohio’s Kindergarten Readiness Assessment, given to all children at the start of their kindergarten year.
